

Closed captioning has been a life saver for me since I have been deaf since 1968 at age 45. My only problem is with the PBS station at the University of North Carolina. They carry a lot of locally produced shows none of which are captioned.